President Tells Soviet Union Not To Interfere in Cuba

U.S. Prepared to Counter Any Red Military Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has fired a straight from the shoulder warning to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to keep hands off Cuba.

Kennedy made it clear in a message to the Soviet leader Tuesday night that the United States will take immediate steps to counter any military intervention by outside force in the Cuban fighting.

Moral Support

The President declared moral support for the "Cuban patriots in their struggle for freedom" and said again that the United States intends no military intervention.

As Kremlin reaction to Kennedy's message was awaited, officials here reported no evidence of any military follow-up by Khrushchev to his threat to supply "all necessary assistance" to

The Cuban Radio charged an American military plane piloted by a U. S. citizen was shot down today over south central Cuba. Rebel air raiders also struck at Havana for the first time since invaders stormed ashore last weekend, the radio said.

The radio said the American was killed. It asserted he was flying one of four planes shot down after bombing troops and civilians and declared:

"United States participation in the aggression against Cuba was dramatically proved."

The pilot was identified by the Cubans as Leo Francis Bell of Boston.

The commander of the U. S. Naval Base at Guantánamo, in southeastern Cuba, said earlier that none of his planes have participated in the fighting.

The broadcast gave no military data about Bell and mentioned only his social security card.

The papers Bell was said to be carrying were all civilian documents, including social security card 014-07-692.

The Cuban communiqué said that Bell's plane was one of four downed today, bringing to nine the total of anti-Castro aircraft claimed to have been shot down since the start of the 3-day old invasion.

The broadcast said that "documents dealing with the aggressive flight" were found in the dead pilot's clothing. No details were given.

The radio reported a twin-engine B26 dropped a bomb on the air force headquarters at San Antonio de los Baños, 25 miles from Havana, then wounded three persons in a strafing run on Havana.

Little Support for Resolution Seen In Debate on Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

The Soviet bloc pressed hard today for a U.N. condemnation of the United States as an aggressor against Cuba, but the harsh demand was expected to find little support.

Kuzma V. Kiselev, foreign minister of White Russia, pushed the communist campaign with a charge that the United States was waging an undeclared war against the government of Fidel Castro.

Kiselev spoke in the 99-nation political committee which was considering four resolutions dealing with the fighting between the forces of Castro and the anti-Castro intruders. These ranged all the way from the Soviet condemnation proposal to a Latin American resolution calling for a negotiated settlement with the aid of Latin American countries.

Hopes for Vote Today

Committee Chairman Karel Kurka of Czechoslovakia told newsmen he hoped for a vote before nightfall.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa told the committee he had received word from Havana that Castro's forces had shot down a military plane piloted by an American and that his body was in possession of the Castro government.

He said the plane had dropped a number of bombs before it was brought down.

"This is another proof," he said, "of the direct participation by the U.S. government in its mercenary action against Cuba."

Kiselev told the committee that President Kennedy, in his note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, said the United States would not interfere in the Cuban conflict. But, he continued to say, the President's words contradicted his note.

Visit Cancelled By Laotian Leader

American Authorities More Concerned With Dangerous
Military Situation of Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — American "certain" that Souvanna Phouma will come here at a later date for talks with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on neutralizing the South in Laos than Rush on neutralizing the South by the decision east Asian kingdom.

Former Premier Souvanna Phouma to skip Washington on his world tour.

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today it has asked the Soviet Union to join in issuing a call for a cease-fire in Laos tomorrow.

Lord Home, Britain's foreign secretary, announced the move in a statement to the House of Lords.

Instructions to try to get an immediate cease-fire were sent to Sir Frank Roberts, Britain's ambassador in Moscow. Roberts conferred today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Lord Home said Britain "set the highest importance in obtaining the earliest possible ceasefire."

The State Department pointed out that Souvanna Phouma had planned to cut short his scheduled visit here by one day in order to make a side trip to the Black Sea resort of Sochi for a talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This meant that instead of arriving Tuesday night for a round of talks today with Kennedy and Rusk, Souvanna Phouma would not arrive until late today. He still insisted on returning to Moscow at noon Thursday.

In a note delivered through the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, Souvanna Phouma was informed that Rusk would be out of town Thursday — making a speech in Atlanta — and would be unable to see him.

With a show of pique, officials said, he notified the United States through his secretary in Moscow that he was calling off the U.S. trip.

Washington officials noted that the United States had always felt that Souvanna Phouma could be of more use at home than abroad in arranging a peaceful settlement of the Laos struggle.

Souvanna Phouma had been outspoken in blaming the United States for perpetuating the conflict in Laos. On his arrival Sunday in Moscow, the prince profusely thanked the Soviet Union for providing "unrestricted aid" to his government.

Laos Seeks More Help From Outside

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The government today decided to ask its "friends and neighbors" for help in fighting what it called a major new rebel offensive threatening Laos and southeast Asia.

Foreign Minister Tiao Sopsaisana indicated requests would be made for more and better arms plus more U.S. military advisers.

He declared the government is thinking of asking for foreign troops if the situation worsens.

One of the first moves made after the morning cabinet decision was to request the United States to establish a full-fledged military assistance group instead of the current civilian body.

The government claimed four major Pathet Lao rebel attacks had been launched, heavily supported to troops from Communist North Viet Nam.

There was no confirmation of such massive assaults from independent sources. In the past such government claims have been found to be exaggerated.

However the government's decision to seek more outside aid — including troops if necessary — was taken as another indication of the worsening situation.

'Bottled Up' Water May Exist on Moon

Scientist Offers Novel Concept at Geophysical Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The novel concept that the first spacemen to reach the moon may find water "bottled up" beneath the arid lunar surface was offered today by a Cornell scientist.

At least, said Dr. Thomas Gold, the moon may well have a layer of "permafrost" — just like certain areas of the earth's cold lands.

In a report prepared for the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union, Dr. Gold said that studies of surface features of the moon appear to lend certain support to the permafrost idea.

Beneath Surface It might even be, he said, that the moon contains large amounts of water deep beneath its surface — a possibility suggested by the fact that the density of lunar structural material is relatively low in relation to the moon's weight and size.

Dr. S. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland, one of the nation's pioneering space scientists, offered another new slant on the moon — namely, that it is surrounded by an electrified curtain of dust.

In a report co-authored by E. H. Walker, he told of finding evidence of a peculiar kind of "ionosphere" near the lunar surface.

He said it differs from the ionosphere that surrounds the earth. The earth's electrified curtain — which makes a handy reflector for certain radio waves sent up from the earth — is produced by the action of solar electrons on neutral gases in the earth's atmosphere.

In contrast, the moon's curtain is formed by electrons which shoot from the moon's surface when it's bombarded by ultraviolet rays from the sun. These negatively charged electrons then mix with positively-charged dust particles believed to hover a short distance above the moon's surface. The dust particles result from meteor impacts with the moon.

Dr. William Markowitz of the U.S. Naval Observatory reported that the length of the day on earth has been decreasing since 1958 — but only by about 10,000ths of a second a day.

He also indicated that the length of the day — dependent upon the speed of the earth's rotation — is subject to cyclic changes. For example, he said, on the state's highways was May between 1955 and 1958, the length 28, 1954, said Bradford Crittenden, Highway Patrol commissioner. increase — by about 5-10,000ths. Road Deaths Increase for 7th Month

MADISON (AP) — The month of March with 57 deaths in Wisconsin highway accidents was the seventh straight month in which fatalities were higher than in the corresponding month of the previous year. The Motor Vehicle Department said today.

March deaths brought the year's first-quarter toll to 184, higher than the first quarter count in any of the last three years and equaling the first quarter toll in 1957.

Urban deaths dropped from 40 last year to 31 this year in the first three months but rural fatalities increased from 115 to 153. Seven counties started April with death-free records for the year — Barron, Burnett, Clark, Crawford, Door, Florence, Forest, Grant, Green, Iowa, Iron, Lafayette, Langlade, Marquette, Pepin, Price and Richland.

Madison was the largest city to claim a death-free record in the first quarter. Cities in the 50,000-100,000 population group with similar honors were Kenosha, Racine, Waukesha and West Allis. Cities in the 25,000-50,000 category were Appleton, Fond du Lac, Janesville, Manitowoc and Wausau.

Kansas City Woman Drives Fire Truck

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A Kansas City area housewife drove a fire truck through two miles of hilly, winding roads yesterday, blowing the horn all the way because she couldn't find the siren button.

Mrs. Gini Van Fleet, Lake Lovatana, went to the fire station to report a blaze at a lake side home. She couldn't find any of the volunteer firemen — but the keys were in the truck.

By the time Mrs. Van Fleet got back to the fire it had destroyed most of the house, a summer cabin which was vacant.

Mrs. Van Fleet said: "Some of my friends say it was unusual for a woman to do a thing like that. I don't think so."

"I'd hate to think American women have gone to pot so much that they can't drive a fire truck now and then."

Mitchell Easy GOP Winner In New Jersey

Victor Says He Will Call on Help For Campaign

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — James P. Mitchell, newly nominated Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, said today he will call on some old friends from the Eisenhower administration to boost his coming campaign.

Obviously the Castro government is attempting to round up and eliminate all possible internal enemies. The effort bespeaks fear that the rebels will accomplish one of their main purposes, to lure defectors to the rebel cause and rally a large sector of the Cuban people to the anti-Castro banner.

The invaders already are battling against fearful odds but, in one respect, they have the initiative. They are the attackers and they choose the time and place for the attacks.

If the invaders make significant progress, there will be indications of it in a wave of sabotage by the underground inside Cuba, gave Mitchell 199,457 votes. State such as attacks on electric power installations, communications and other nerve centers.

There has been and still is fear that the invasion may have been triggered ahead of time and have exposed too many of Castro's potential underground to his police with Sen. Clifford P. Case, a liberal Republican, in command.

Jones ran with the backing of two-thirds of the GOP county organizations. Mitchell and Case said Jones represented an old-line leadership that had squandered the party's supremacy in the eight years since Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner was elected.

Meyner could not run for a third term. He leaves office next January.

State Reorganization

Plan Opposed by Two Business Spokesmen

MADISON (AP) — Two spokesmen for Wisconsin business interests Tuesday opposed constitutional changes recommended by the objectives of the activities." Gov. "You would be issuing a blank check to the governor to do what he wants," Joseph Balcer, representing the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, told the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

"You now have the power to make needed changes in organization," Balcer told the lawmakers, "but under these measures you'd be giving away most of your powers."

The constitutional revisions recommended by Nelson would authorize the governor to change administrative organization and shift state agency functions, while limiting the number of major departments to 20.

Who's a War Criminal?

While the Eichmann trial has gained headlines around the world through the enormity of the crimes of which the former Nazi is accused, and the well-planned publicity, West German authorities are trying to find and prosecute other Germans whose actions had the same aroma of horror as those of Eichmann. But the success in West Germany has not been great. There have been only a few trials and fewer convictions.

For more than two years German authorities have been seeking evidence and tracking men to try some 20 former members of the S.S. guard who are alleged to have planned and carried out mass tortures and executions. This "Auschwitz trial" will come to the courts later this year.

But prosecution is difficult for a number of reasons. Each of the 11 German states conducts its own investigation and legal apprehension as well as court actions. A central office for all has a list of more than 80,000 persons supposed to have been implicated but only 150 have been caught. Many have died, others have changed their names and now lead respectable lives, while others fled to the east.

Deeper than these practical problems, however, is the psychological effect on the German people. To the civilized mind, torture, murder and other forms of sadism are crimes against humanity even if they are not written into the statutes in every nation. But war itself is considered by many to be inhuman with unlimited bombings and mass destruction which faced the protagonists in World War II. The difficulty in determining who is guilty of a crime against humanity rests, to some extent, on whether he planned the crime or was carrying out orders as Eichmann's attorney has claimed. The individual German who knows his neighbor may be one sought by the government for atrocities must consider whether he would have acted differently under the circumstances. Many Germans stood up against the Nazi machine. The overwhelming majority did not.

In a sense the entire Nazi philosophy, like that of Communism, can be considered as a crime against humanity. The German people themselves were the chief victims, but they also were the chief cause because they permitted or helped the regime to come to power. Hitler did not take over the German government. It was given to him.

Since the revival in a few German cities of alleged new Nazi organizations and charges that the German schools do not teach enough about the wrongs of Nazism and the mistakes of the German people, the West German government and the individual states have shown more concern for revealing and prosecuting the most depraved of the former Nazis. But we do not expect that many such people will be brought to trial and convicted. The task is too great.

Sea Lamprey Battle Nears Victory

Control of the horny-toothed sea lamprey which eliminated trout from Lake Michigan and practically ruined commercial fishing in other Great Lakes is coming closer after a battle which covers almost three decades.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is confident that the predatory eels will be well under control by the summer of 1963 and it is laying plans to restock Lakes Michigan and Superior with yearling lake trout. To this end, the service has asked for $982,000 to build a lake trout hatchery on Lower Michigan's Jordan River.

Hatchery facilities already in operation are producing 1.5 million yearlings annually but the Great Lakes Fishery Commission has recommended that seven million a year be stocked in the lakes. With control of the lampreys virtually assured, the return of the once great fishing industry on the lakes can be anticipated.

The scientific approach to the lamprey problem, which started in the 1930s, can be thanked for the solution. Two forms of lamprey control have been developed.

One is the electrocution method, more expensive and time consuming than the lampicide treatment of streams. This lampicide is a toxin that seeks out the lampreys where they are buried in the mud and streams and kills them without killing desirable fish.

Development of the toxin required long research and tests which apparently now are paying off.

"With control of the lamprey now imminent, the problems of understanding the Great Lakes fish populations and their productivity need attention," according to a statement by Donald L. McKernan, director of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Both commercial and private fishermen will be happy to know that the chances are good for return of the lake trout. For the former it means a rebirth of a once flourishing industry. For the sportsman it will provide another means to try his wiles in the contest to outguess the fish. Those of us who remember the succulent trout on the dinner table are just as happy to know that an adequate supply is in the offing.

Press Freedom a Requirement for Liberty

The Inter-American Press Association recently met in Acapulco, Mexico, and pointed out the lack of press freedom in several Latin American countries. But none challenges Cuba where "freedom of the press has been completely abolished." Never in the history of IAPA has such a serious case been presented. There is not even a glimmer of freedom in Cuba now," said a report of the Committee on Freedom of the Press unanimously accepted by the Board of Directors.

The IAPA pointed out that more than 100,000 Cubans have fled their native land including at least 400 Cuban newsmen. But "fortunately the utter disregard for human life, the abolition of all freedom and the absolute disrespect for private property on the part of the present government of Cuba, has confirmed the belief in the Americas, that this regime, the most abominable in our contemporary history, is fated to succumb," said IAPA President Ricardo Castro Beeche of Costa Rica hopefully.

This optimistic viewpoint is hard to share when one looks at other findings of the committee. There is no freedom of the press in the Dominican Republic or in Bolivia and there hasn't been for many years. Conditions of freedom have worsened in Haiti. A tax on circulation and sale of newspapers threatens the freedom by economic means in parts of Argentina. Newspapers have been attacked and machinery destroyed in Nicaragua despite an earlier announcement that freedom of the press had been restored in that nation.

Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos told the conference of the tremendous economic strides that must be made by the Latin American countries in the future. "Journalism's task is imperative: it is charged as a teacher of the people, an ally in the struggle for all men of America to have more and cheaper food, health and hygiene, a stable money and fair prices for its produce; adequate education to develop more apt and useful beings for the community; better housing; well ordered cities; more roads to bring distant regions together and more communications between men and peoples..."

President Mateos' ideas are quite true but it is a large order for newspapers which also must constantly battle government restrictions or tendency to look the other way when there is violence and destruction. Some of the nations which, like Cuba, cater to special interests, understand freedom of the press only when it involves presenting their own points of view.

the proper use of the committee's power, which is fully as subject to abuse by liberals as it is by conservatives.

As every one in the chamber knew, the issue involved also the prestige of the venerable speaker himself, which he laid squarely on the line in behalf of the administration. It involved the institution of an independent Rules Committee, which has served historically as a counterweight to the power of the speaker. It involved the probable fate of legislation dear to the hearts of many members, anathema to many others. And, regrettably, it had become an intensely partisan issue.

By rushing so eagerly and uncritically into the arms of chairman Smith, minority leader Charles Halleck gave the Republican party a black eye right at the start of the legislative session. He had a chance for statesmanship. He had a chance to steer the House toward an honorable compromise which would

Joining of Science, Technology Will Bring About Better Living

Editor, Post-Crescent:

We are living in a time when the whole world is in turmoil. Our prestige abroad is low. At home, racial hatreds are spreading, and hysteria developing.

Unemployment and taxes are rising rapidly, and, as a result of frustrating conditions, crime and mental instability are at an all-time high. What does the politician suggest for a solution? — more subsidies, more policemen, large jails and mental institutions.

The 'backward' people of the world are dissatisfied with their poverty, disease, and early death, and want some of the good things of life. These underprivileged people, in spite of billions of dollars spent in selling 'our way of life' with strings attached, instead of admiring and wanting to emulate us, despise and hate us, and shout 'Yankee Go Home.'

We are faced with millions unemployed, and with millions of tons of food stored, and all the things necessary for healthful living available, but, because of an obsolete price system, which was designed for scarcity bogs down from the impact of abundance, and is unable to distribute it 'at a profit' to those who need it.

For over 30 years Technocracy has been warning the people of the U.S. of the inevitable break-down of the price system, and the need to change to a non-price or functional method of operation, if we are to go forward in world leadership.

Until we are willing to face the basic problem, we will see 'more people turning to crime, have respected the legitimate interests of all concerned, and which would have been aimed at ending the abuse of power rather than at the question of who should have it. But he chose instead to join the Southern Democrats in an all-or-nothing struggle. He lost not only the fight, but also a shining opportunity to play that "constructive" role he talks about.

Laos Fighting Called Comic Opera War

U.N. Association President Speaks To Neenah Group

NEENAH — "A Comic Opera War" is what Grant T. Haas, president of the Wisconsin Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, termed fighting in Laos.

Speaking before the Fox River Valley Chapter of the AAUN, Haas said many of the so-called "battles" that have been reported between government and communist forces actually never took place.

Haas described the Laotians as an easy going people who are very strong adherents to the Buddhist religion and have a strong aversion to killing.

Roads Impassable

Laos is about twice the size of Wisconsin, has no railroads, very poor communications and only 1,500 miles of roads, many miles of which are impassable during the rainy season which will begin soon.

Haas said he believes Russia is stalling on a cease fire until the rainy season when fighting of any kind will be impossible anyway.

Laos is a communist target, he said, because it produces a surplus of rice, desperately needed by Red China.

Some Dissension

This also has led, Haas said, to some dissension between Red China and the Soviet Union.

He noted a statement issued by the Chinese last week warning all foreigners to get out of Laos and let the Laotians settle their own problems. Haas pointed out the warning did not specify Westerners but also could have included the Russians.

Haas also said he feels the west has lost in Laos and if a stand is to be made in southeast Asia, it will be made by SEATO in Thailand.

Two new officers for the Fox Valley Chapter were elected. Lyle Argetsinger, Neenah, was named vice-president and Mrs. Joseph Braun, Neenah, was named secretary. Mrs. Hane Hefti is president and John Teeple, treasurer.

Explorer Post Names Officers

Plans Underway for Future Activities, Financing Program

KAUKAUNA — Election of officers and plans for future events highlighted a meeting of Kaukauna Explorer Scout Post 31. Terry Schaefer was named president.

Others elected were Rodney Van Zeeland, vice-president, and David DeGroot, secretary-treasurer. The Scouts will visit Glenview Naval Air Station this weekend and, on April 29, have scheduled a bowling match against adult committee members.

The group will attend a regional conference at the Great Lakes Naval Station May 5 through 7 with Van Zeeland and Schaefer to serve as delegates. A 7-day canoe trip covering 35 miles and a visit to 23 lakes will take place from June 11 to 18.

Sometime in August the group will visit a Florida Air Force base. The boys hope to finance the excursions through various benefits and promotions. Currently the group is selling opening day buttons for the Fox Cities Baseball game.

Also in the planning stages are car washes, a pancake supper and a concession stand to be operated in conjunction with the American Legion picnic.

Cannons Mark Camp of Civil War Regiments

BY ALLAN EKVALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Four bronze cannons, pointing out toward Lake Winnebago just across from Menominee Park, memorialize the gathering site 99 years ago of two Civil War regiments.

Dividing the cannons into pairs is a large stone with a plaque telling posterity, "Near this spot in the autumn of 1862, the 21st and 32nd Regiments, Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, were encamped for organization before proceeding to the front."

Rendezvous point for the volunteer companies made up of residents of northeastern Wisconsin counties was designated as Camp Bragg, where Mercy Hospital and its School of Nursing now stand.

Named For General

The camp, the former Oshkosh fairgrounds, took its name from Edward S. Bragg, an Oshkosh attorney who left in September, 1861, as a captain in the state's famed "Iron Brigade" and three years later was named a general.

Civil War histories list only the two regiments as being formed at Camp Bragg, but they go on to tell the heroic role those two regiments played in that war.

The 21st Regiment had been formed less than five weeks when it was in the midst of a battle that claimed a loss of 65 killed and 80 wounded. Several top officers were killed and its commander, Col. Benjamin J. Sweet, was seriously wounded.

Battle of Perryville

At the Battle of Perryville on Oct. 8, 1862, the regiment was listed as having been placed 100 yards in front of the main line of Camp Bragg.

Me. Confederate Forces

The regiment left Sept. 11 from Cincinnati and left there Sept. 18 for Louisville, where they encountered both sides.

JFK Accused Of Suppressing Information

Hasn't Lived Up to Promise, Editors'
Committee Reports

BY STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee of editors reported today that newsmen, despite their free access to the White House itself, are having trouble with news suppression in the Kennedy administration.

Several hundred editors, opening the annual meeting here of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), found waiting a critical report from the society's Freedom of Information Committee headed by Eugene S. Pulliam, managing editor of the Indianapolis News.

The Pulliam report noted that President Kennedy before and after his election "was on record in writing as believing in freedom of information and in his duty to see that the people are informed."

Promises Not Kept

"To date, neither he nor his administration has lived up to his promise," the report said.

The report was presented to the ASNE board Tuesday. ASNE officials announced at the meeting that 11 Soviet editors will visit the United States in May in response to an invitation extended by American editors about two years ago.

The Soviets have expressed a desire to visit New York, Chicago, the Los Angeles area and several other cities. A group of American editors plans a return visit to the Soviet Union, probably in September."

The Pulliam report directed its criticism at "the State and Defense departments particularly." It advised the ASNE that Kennedy's news secretary, Pierre Salinger, has failed to answer in questions put to him by the committee two months ago concerning specific instances of withholding of news.

Kennedy to Speak

Kennedy, six of his Cabinet officers and other officials of the new administration will address the society during its four-day meeting. Today's opening program was devoted to a seminar in which five scientists were scheduled to address the editors on topics ranging from space exploration to microorganisms.

The Pulliam report paid tribute to the efforts of Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the House subcommittee on Government Information, the late Sen. Thomas Hennings, D-Mo., and Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va., for their efforts to lower news barriers in Congress and the executive branch.

The committee, which frequently has condemned the common congressional practice of holding committee hearings in executive session, reported little change in either house of Congress.

Want Expense Report

The editors' group noted that Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., still hasn't released House travel expenses—the Federal Register containing federal salaries isn't being printed and the medical assistance amendment to the Social Security Act contained a secrecy clause."

The report added, "We won a minor skirmish when a House recount of an election started in secret but was opened to reporters after several ASNE members complained."

The society's directors approved two recommendations from Pulliam's committee:

Defends Paper

1. That it intervene as a friend of the court in behalf of the New York Times if that newspaper's appeal from a libel judgment brought in behalf of Alabama state officials goes to the Supreme Court.

2. That it notify the Colorado Supreme Court of its concern over the sentencing of Vi Murnan, Colorado reporter who refused to disclose news sources.

The idea that she can be forced to serve an indefinite sentence for contempt of court seems outrageous," said the report.

Bill Would Have State Pay Transportation For Private Schools

MADISON (AP) — The state would pay the cost of school bus transportation for private school pupils under the terms of a bill introduced in the Assembly.

The measure, introduced by Adrian Manders, D-Milwaukee, and six other assemblymen, would provide bus rides for students at tending parochial schools. The defeated in previous session of state would pay local school the Legislature.

boards up to $36 per year per pupil. Now the state provides aid for public school pupils to school districts by $3.1 million in the biennium.

The school board would be required to provide bus service for all pupils in the district to "any school of the pupil's choice" more than two miles from the student's home, and it is estimated the measure introduced today would extend state payments for transportation to some school.

Similar measures extending aids to private schools have been proposed in previous session of state.

Mother Puts Hands of Girls in Boiling Water

NORTH SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A 30-year-old mother faced arraignment on a charge of injuring her two teenage daughters by plunging their hands into the children's hands in the water about 10 seconds April 7th.

Irene Olson, 11, suffered second degree burns on her right hand and arm and second degree burns on her left hand. Irene Olson, 11, suffered second degree burns on her left hand. The mother, Mrs. Elaine Weaver, a divorcee, was quoted by Sgt. Ben Bruno as saying she held the children's hands in the water about 10 seconds April 7th. Since then, he said, the children were out of school while their mother tried to heal the burns.

The new unit will be used to combat such things as Dutch Elm disease, oak wilt and maple leaf scale.

U. S. Has Formidable Array Of Anti-Submarine Devices

Navy Says Weapons Can Repel Communists' 450-Sub Force

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radio-controlled drone helicopters armed with homing torpedoes. Search devices that can bounce a sub-seeking signal off the ocean floor. Missiles able to kill nuclear submarines at ranges up to about eight miles.

These are a few of the detection instruments and weapons, some with a lethal atomic punch which the Navy says it can use—or soon will have ready — if called on to repel the Communist world's 450-submarine force.

Rear Adm. Lloyd M. Mustin, head man in Navy Antisubmarine Warfare (ASW), claims U. S. antisub capability is very good. He says there are some new "dramatic" means, still cloaked in secrecy.

Some others in the Navy and industry which supplies the Navy disagree with Mustin's estimate.

Grave Doubt

A destroyer-minded officer wrote recently there is room for grave doubt that U. S. destroyer forces are currently capable of disposing of the Soviet sub threat. He questioned the effectiveness of most present weapons against high-speed nuclear subs which can stay submerged indefinitely.

This is the second of two articles dealing with the threat of Communist submarines.

Some industry sources have complained progress in ASW is too slow, that the nation's capability in this field does not appear to have advanced in proportion to the growth of the threat.

But Mustin dissents, saying "We have the stuff; we have the know-how."

The admiral contends "the speed destroyers with long-range quality of this equipment is more than adequate" to deal with the threat. Some rocket-fired depth charges, some rocket-fired greater problem that will develop when the Soviets add a sizable number of nuclear craft to their already potent sub fleet powered by conventional fuels.

No Nuclear Subs

To date, the Soviets have shown no nuclear subs, but U. S. Navy officials are taking for granted that such Soviet craft will be operating. Neptune which is packed with more than 4,000 pounds of electronic equipment and carries nuclear depth charges and homing torpedoes.

To prepare for that day, U. S. Antisubmarine Warfare teams have been testing hunt-and-kill techniques against U. S. atomic subs.

Adm. Mustin views it, the pressing need is to acquire new ASW tools in quantity—"there is no substitute for numbers in antisubmarine warfare," he argues.

The Eisenhower administration's forecast military budget proposed about $1.6 billion for ASW readiness in the fiscal year starting July 1. President Kennedy has recommended increasing this by about $25 million.

Earmarked Funds

Of the total, $236.2 million was earmarked for research and development on still more advanced ASW methods, equipment and weapons.

More than $100 million was allotted for remodeling 53 World War II destroyers, submarines and other types, most of them for antisub work. This modernization program, begun in 1959, involves installing the very latest search gear, missile-fired torpedoes and depth charges and other devices expected to add from five to eight years to the effective lives of these aging vessels.

The Navy has an active fleet surface. It travels through the air to re-enter the water for the kill. It falls away and the warhead — launching sub.

SUBROC can detect another, either conventional or nuclear, sub at long range, compute its course on to the target. Its kill course and speed before the misrange is described as "an area with a kill potential up to several miles from the point of detonation of submarines, like those used by the Germans in World War II.

Annual Reports
Hint at What's Being Planned

Future Corporate Ideas Range From Heaven to Earth

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Annual reports now crowd the mailboxes of perhaps 15 million Americans who own shares in our industry. Often the booklets glow with promises of what the consumer and his government may expect from busy research departments.

Those are just peepholes in the fence of corporate statistics. But the stockholders can glimpse how management is building for the future.

The research pointed out in the annual report may be in a consumer product of everyday usage, like Pepsi-Cola's projected eight bottle carton carrier. Or it may be in outer space like Lockheed's work on a design for solid fuel boosters for vehicles weighing a million pounds.

What's Coming
Here is a handful of other examples, both in the immediate, every day field and in the distant, esoteric one.

American Can's annual report finds space among the figures on its present fiscal condition to report on the outlook for lighter metal containers from low-cost tinplate, as well as lighter and stronger glass containers.

Endicott Johnson talks of making shoes from a new leather supposed to have as much as 500 per cent more durability.

Among work in progress at American Cyanamid is something that may lead to a smog control device for cars. Allied Chemical is working on nylon tire yarns of increased strength. Du Pont's report discusses possible new forms of printing with characteristics of both offset and letterpress, as well as research into "the chemistry of biological nitrogen fixation and synthesis of a new class of organic solids which conduct electricity." Sun Chemical is studying new fields for its magnetic printing ink now used on bank checks.

New Glass
Corning Glass Works talks of a new glass that will permit selective passage of certain gases and of other glass that can be used at temperatures far higher than any now thought possible.

The challenge of the fuel cell, in which chemical energy is converted directly to electric power is occupying scientists of a number of firms, including Indiana Standard Oil, McGraw - Edison, and Chrysler. Carrier is studying thermoelectric power generation to convert heat directly into electricity. Foster Wheeler's studies include heat transfer and corrosion and deposit investigations.

Aluminum Ltd., is working on a basically new process to make substantial savings in capital and cost of producing aluminum. North American Coal Corp. tells of research into output of high purity alumina from low grade domestic ores.

And on Earth
Lear, Inc., says its scientists are working hard on the orbiting and landing problems of space men.

On this earth Pullman, Inc., is fretting over some of transportation's knotty problems. It assures its stockholders they may see containerization become "as revolutionary for the transportation industry as packaging has been to the food industry."

Nation Must Build Backing
Of Its Dollar

"Restoration of full confidence in the dollar is perhaps the most important task facing the nation," President O. Kelley Anderson, New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., said today.

Our large losses of gold during the last three years finally have brought us face to face with an historic truth — that gold is the only continuously and universally trusted form of money," he said in a report to policyholders.

"That the future value of the dollar should now be suspect is ironic," he added. "Our present plight, in the face of our success in bolstering other nations, is almost like snatching defeat from the jaws of victory."

Avoid Problems
"Ever since World War I, it has been the combination of overspending and inflating the money supply that has caused the currencies of nation after nation to lose value and to fall into dispute. Our Western European friends know all the seemingly plausible devices that lead to currency depreciation. They have learned the hard way that these are to be avoided like the plague."

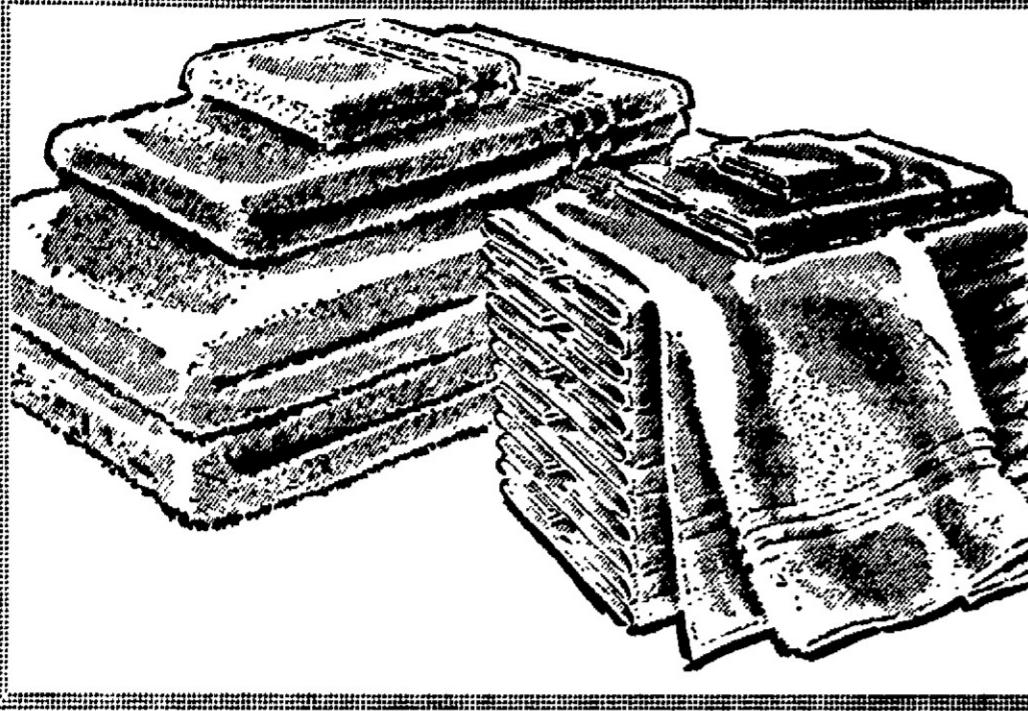

"Thus Europeans will be watching our action with the sophistication that comes from bitter experience. Undoubtedly the governments and the central banks of Western Europe will cooperate with us — up to an undefined point — in defending the dollar. We must make sure we do not go beyond that undefined point where foreigners might decide we had passed the bounds of fiscal and monetary prudence," he said.

restrained language Kennedy has used so far in his effort to get along with the Soviets.

Kennedy told Khrushchev:

1. The United States morally supports and will not hinder "Cuban patriots" in their struggle for freedom" against the Castro government.

2. While the United States "intends no military intervention in Cuba, in the event of any military intervention by outside force we will immediately honor our obligations under the inter-American system to protect this hemisphere against external aggression."

Kennedy referred, as had President Eisenhower in a similar warning to Khrushchev last summer, to the commitments by the American republics under the Rio de Janeiro Pact to act together against any move by an outside power endangering peace in the hemisphere.

Laos Question

3. Rather than using the Cuban situation as a pretext "to inflame other areas of the world," Moscow should join in present opportunities for peace in Laos and the Congo and for agreeing to a ban on atomic tests.

4. Contrary to Khrushchev's claim that communism is the inevitable wave of the future, "the great revolution in the history of man past, present and future, is the revolution of those determined to be free."

"What your government believes is its own business," Kennedy said. "What it does in the world is the world's business."

American Flier Shot Down, Cuba Reports

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP)—Formation of a unified Lutheran church in the United States was urged today by a prominent Lutheran churchman.

He is the Rev. Dr. O. V. Anderson, president of the Central Conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church, who spoke at the central conference's 109th annual convention.

The pastors and laymen attending the four-day conference will have a chance to further Lutheran unity Thursday, when they vote on a proposal to merge the Augustana Lutheran Church with three other Lutheran churches which have a combined membership of 3.25 million.

"There is no continuing good reason for a divided Lutheran Church in America," Dr. Anderson said. "The situation in the world... calls for every expression of Christian unity that we are able to provide."

A merger of the Augustana Lutheran Church with the American Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Finnish Lutheran Church and the United Lutheran Church is pending the approval of two-thirds of the church members.

If the four churches do become one, Dr. Anderson said, he hoped merger negotiations with other Lutherans would continue until there was total Lutheran unity.

In his annual report to church members, the central conference head said that the body has added 1,798 baptized members in the last year, and had organized eight new churches. Members of the 187 congregations in Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Missouri contributed $7.5 million during 1960.

Man Jailed to Pay $5,000 Fine At Rate of $2 Daily

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Time hangs heavy for Milt Rankin.

He's been in the Harlan County jail nearly four years and might stay four more.

"I've never bothered to figure the day I'm supposed to get out," says Rankin, 53, a former coal and communications with Western miner serving out a $5,000 fine at the legal rate of $2 a day.

The jury that convicted Rankin of running a disorderly house also sentenced him to a year in jail. He was sentenced to a year in jail in Las Vegas, where the rebels are believed to have made their main invasion stab.

A correspondent for the Yugoslav newspaper Politika reported from Havana that an invasion force of about 5,000, "armed with tanks and guns, light arms and medical supplies.

There was little news on the progress of the invasion force on the coastal front southeast and east of Havana.

The government put its firing squads to work, sending two Americans Executed

In the first group was August Jack McNair of Miami. The broadcast said the second group included Howard F. Anderson, a longtime Havana resident from Seattle, Wash. An ex-marine who once was the commander of Havana's American Legion post, he was arrested last month.

A Cuban broadcast denied rebel claims of new landings in northern Matanzas and Oriente Province and said an attack against the Isle of Pines had failed. Rebel leaders had asserted earlier this week that the prison island off the south coast had fallen and its 10,000 political prisoners had joined the insurgents.

Information on the progress of the invasion and Castro's defense against it continued sketchy, with neither the government nor the rebel command announcing much.

The Cuban government radio said fight is continuing in Las Villas Province, where the rebels

There were other indications that the outnumbered anti-Castro forces were under heavy pressure and there was no word of any nationwide uprising against the pro-Communist regime.

The rebel Cuban Revolutionary Council, in a communiqué Tuesday, said the "freedom fighters" were being attacked in the key Matanzas area by heavy Soviet-made tanks and MIG jet fighters.

The communiqué admitted "sizeable" rebel losses of equipment protection of airplanes are now hearing in urgent broadcasts without success trying to broadcast from inside Cuba claiming the original bridgehead in the invaders had captured an airfield province of Las Villas, on the in Las Villas Province and had

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gave some signs today they are beginning to pick up the pieces of their presidential election defeat and fit together a new party's executive committee.

Because some committee mem-

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

PROBLEM FROM ELOPEMENT

My daughter eloped last November and both families were informed about it in January. There was no baby involved and there still isn't. At the time we were told, I made no formal announcement of the marriage, but relatives and friends on both sides soon learned of it.

My daughter and her husband have moved to another city. I hate to admit it, but they received so few wedding presents that I wonder if it would be all right for me to mail their marriage announcements after this length of time.

Louise Davis Answers:

No. You are admitting to yourself and to me that the only reason for issuing the announcements is the hope for more gifts. All concerned know about the marriage, so why tell them something they already know? They would only read between the lines that you and your daughter have hands out for gifts. If your daughter and her husband moved very recently, they could mail cards, even postal cards that "We have moved", giving the city and address. There should be nothing in the message referring to their marriage and they should lean over backward to avoid any hints for gifts. If all relatives and friends happen to know the new address, then issuing the cards should be passed up.

WHO PAYS?

Who pays for the gowns and accessories of a bride's attendants?

And how about suits for the best man and ushers?

Louise Davis Answers:

Each attendant pays for her own dress and accessories. The best man and ushers also supply their own suits.

Town Doesn't Live Up to Its Name

ACCIDENT, Md. (AP) — Despite its name, this town of 200 people hasn't had a traffic fatality in 20 years. But its eye-catching postmark is in great demand with safety campaigners who mail their accident prevention literature from Accident.

Historically, the name came about in this way: King George II gave a grant of 600 acres anywhere in western Maryland to George Deakins in payment of a debt. Anxious to find the best area, Deakins sent out two different corps of engineers, who came up with identical survey maps. Could it be an accident?

Club Meets at Winneconne

WINNECONNE — Mrs. David Courtney entertained her bridge club at dessert and cards Friday evening. Prize winners were Mrs. J. P. Grubwell, Mrs. Edgar Bartlett and Mrs. Karl Kolodzik. Mrs. Karl Smith received a special prize.

Find Approach to Fear, Women Told

NEENAH — "Fear is the most virulent emotion. You must find some kind of approach to fear," Dr. Cleo Dawson told Woman's Tuesday Club yesterday at Boys Brigade building.

Women have a need for security because they bear the young. "Nevertheless, fear can destroy them," Dr. Dawson said.

"Nineteen-twentieths of what you do comes out of the way you feel and not out of the way you think; one-twentieth is the power of thought. . . . use the mind instead of the emotion. The only answer to fear is intelligence."

The four great emotions are fear, rage, wonder and sex, the speaker stated. "To be normal, an even balance must be kept."

Dr. Dawson closed her talk with three admonitions for any love relationship: "do not evaluate, do not criticize and don't be dull."

Refreshments will be served. Troop leaders are Mrs. A. H. Hallock, Mrs. Clifford Bauer and Mrs. Andrew Bruckner.

Parents' Responsibility Is to Help Straighten Out Own Son

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son Parents.

is going with a girl who is much too good for him. We are worried about her but we are afraid to interfere.

Dear Parents: You can't go around warning girls against your son. Your real responsibility is to get this boy straightened around so the world will be safe from him.

A girl who would "go crazy" over a young man with the qualities you describe must be pretty mixed up herself. Disturbed people often attract each other.

Make an appointment with a specialist and get some advice on how to reach bright, hostile, maladjusted 18-year-old Don Juan. You need professional direction.

DEAR ANN: I'm a widow, 52, in good health. I own my own home, a new car, and have a modest income.

I've been corresponding for six months with a man I've never met. He lives 3,000 miles away and is a friend of a friend who thought we should get together.

His letters are so romantic I feel like a school-girl again. Last week he phoned and his voice is like Charles Boyer's. He wants me to sell my home and drive out to marry him. He said we can buy a brand new love-nest out there with the money I get from the house.

I wired my friend who knows him and asked for his advice. He said the man is "very nice" but he didn't want to be responsible.

ers. Can we warn her? — Sad for anything. Please help me. Ann. This may be my last chance for happiness. — Mabel

Dear Mabel: A woman who would sell her home and drive 3,000 miles to marry a man she's never met has a clinker in her thinker.

Invite him to your city and arrange for him to stay with friends or in a hotel. Then, if you like what you see, take a trip out his way and meet his family, friends, clergyman, boss (and creditors).

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 16-year-old son is trying to go steady with a girl who lives in another county. It is a 30-minute drive to her house from where we live. His father thinks he should date girls who live closer by or else find his own transportation.

We are constantly driving back and forth dropping him off and going to get him. The public transportation is poor so don't suggest it. We refuse to let him drive until he's 18. He's been screaming about this for a year so please don't mention this possibility.

Our other two sons did exactly the same thing. What's the big attraction for out of town girls anyway? Help! — Worn Out Parents.

Dear Worn Out: Distance lends enchantment and you can't change that. But you can change your foolish routine.

Why encourage a 16-year-old boy to go steady by chauffeuring him. Maybe if he had to depend on "poor public transportation" he'd be going with other girls, which is what a 16-year-old boy should be doing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New-Old Window Shades Follow Fashion

As every detail of today's homes at this newspaper and enclose becomes more important to dec a stamped, self-addressed envelope, the return of the plisse ope and 15 cents with your request shade was inevitable. It never did disappear entirely, but plainer window shades long took over from the puckery striped design that was a favorite for years. It's on its way to becoming a favorite again in its latest version, which alternates silky self-pattern and shirred plain color in Chromspun rayon and cotton, as well as in cotton alone.

For summer, plisse shades may be all that's needed for a cool looking window, and fringed scallops give the sparing window treatment a special finishing touch. Glass curtains might be removed without leaving a bare look if the shades are hung with overdrapery. The shades may be had with or without scallops, and if the shade scallop isn't compatible with a balance or cornice edging, the straight fringing is preferable. Scallops, however, belong with the long curves of a cornice or larger window framing as shown in the sketch.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

1. Criticizing a child will make him feel he's no good!
True _____ False _____
Not necessarily. It depends upon how you criticize him. There's a world of difference between reprimanding your boy for being very untidy and calling him a "dirty slob." The first can be construed as a specific suggestion for his improvement and for enlisting his cooperation in being a tidy member of the family. This is a way of saying that you have a nice child who has some faults. Calling him a filthy bum is in effect saying that you have a bad child. Call him one long enough and he may come to believe you. Then both of you are in real trouble. To find out the different methods of disciplining children, send for the booklet, "How to Discipline Your Children." Send 25 cents and your name and address, for each copy, to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of this newspaper.

2. Are "practical" men really practical?
Yes _____ No _____
No, says Prof. Robert MacIver of Columbia University. He claims that they're very good at getting places, but actually don't know both sides, it sometimes does not any place worth going to. He feels that too many of us are like air-wins. Perhaps it is time to take planes that have to keep on flying politics far more seriously than because they have no landing gear. They go faster and faster, but they are going into nothing.

Sad Tale From a Tourney

Every bridge tournament has its wailing wall, usually strategically located near the bar. There you can find the players who had bad luck or bad partners, bemoaning their fate and nervously themselves to another session. If you listen hard, you can hear tales that would move a stone to tears.

"Let me tell you what my idiot partner did on this hand," said an unlucky expert between sessions at the national tournament last month in Denver. I looked sympathetic.

"The opening lead was the king of clubs, and the idiot played the seven. Ten cold tricks weren't enough for him."

I clicked my tongue sympathetically and asked the obvious question. "They switched to the queen of hearts and took the next four tricks?"

"Worse," groaned my companion.

This was a puzzler. What could be worse than letting the opponents defeat you when you were cold for the contract?

Threw Away Spade

"The leader led another club, and my idiot partner got two clubs out of his silly play," explained the unlucky expert. "Now he ran off the six diamonds, saving all the spades. The man that was foolish enough to lead a second club was also foolish enough to throw away a spade."

This was quite a weak defense. "Your partner took the rest then," I observed. "You must have had a terrific score for making six. What are you crying about?"

"He's been crowing about that hand all afternoon," complained the unlucky expert. "He keeps telling me I need courage to be a good player. If I don't have another drink I'll kill him before the evening session is halfway done."

I walked away quickly before my own tears started to flow. But I've often wondered since if a man killed his partner in such a case, would a jury call it justifiable homicide?

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one no trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S. J. 5 4 2 H. Q. J. 10 8 D. None. C. K. Q. 10 9 8. What do you say?"

Answer: Bid two clubs, the Stayman convention. This asks the opener to show a major suit if he can. You will raise a major suit to game; and if partner cannot show a major suit you will bid three clubs.

Modern Theory

Harold Grabel, clinical psychologist at Winnebago State Hospital and head of its alcoholism division was guest speaker. Mr. Grabel stated that today's approach to mental illness is that any emotional upset is a form of illness, but that if severe distress is treated properly and immeiately, most victims do not need hospital care.

The speaker stated that the best help available for the alcoholic is Alcoholics Anonymous. This group is composed of those who have been in the position of not being able to control their drinking. He stated that no one knows why some people lack this control; reasons may be chemical, physical, psychological, or a combination of all three. Once a person has lost control, however, he never regains it. The alcoholic must then rely on someone else to control his behavior.

Defined Alcoholism

Alcoholism was defined by the speaker as the situation in which alcohol interferes with any part of a person's life. The best way to help an alcoholic is to cease protecting him from his weakness by making excuses for him and to stop his downward spiral before it is too late. The alcoholic needs help from his family, from professional people and from the community. We must not only tell those afflicted that they must stop drinking, we must also tell them how.

Here are Tips for Shy In Making Friends

BY ANGELO PATRI
"What would you say if I told you that I, a girl of 20, has never had a friend, never shared a box of candy, never was asked for a date by a boy? I am so lonely I could die. I've tried to make friends but when the time comes to smile or speak, I'm frozen. What can I do?"
The only one who can help here is the shy one herself. All of us are shy and lonely. Each of us is shut inside a wall of silence and each of us must break through to get in touch with other people. The other people are waiting for a sign of friendliness. A smile, a word is enough to break down the wall and find a friend on the other side.

Very Difficult

It is very difficult for the really shy one to make an advance of any kind, but hard as it is, he must make it. Few indeed are the people who go through a day without meeting a friendly smile or a friendly word. The bus driver will smile at the passenger who looks at him with a smile. The girl at the counter will smile given half a chance, and so will the mailman and the messenger boy. Even the shyest person can practice on them and so find an open gate to a friendly world.

And how about doing something to help somebody else? Offer to do an errand for someone who cannot do it for himself. Knit a pair of mittens or a sweater for someone who will be delighted to get a gift like that. Bake a cake or a batch of cookies, and share them. Surely there is a neighbor who children love cookies?

Join Club

Go to church and when someone stops to speak, don't scuttle away but stand and smile in return, and shake hands as if you meant it. There is always somebody to introduce a young person to others of the same age if allowed a chance to do so.

Join a club or go to a class where other young people are working and studying. Associations like these are bound to break the walls of silence and serve it. It takes two to make friends and each must go at least half way in the association.

So lonely one, do your hair in the most becoming style; put on your most attractive dress and your most friendly smile and go to work on the job of being a friend. You've got to be one before you can make one. It isn't so hard after you make the first break. A smile, a word, a friendly gesture, and there you are. But silence, retreat, cold reserve won't crack the wall that stands between any two people alive. It's up to you to do it positively.

Lawrence Symphony in Spring Concert Sunday

Work of Bach, Brahms to Feature

Evening Program at College Chapel

Compositions by two of the famous Three Bs of music — Bach and Brahms — will be featured by the Lawrence Symphony Orchestra in its spring concert at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Chapel under the direction of Kenneth Byler.

From the pen of Bach comes the first of his famous Brandenburg Concertos, while the Brahms Serenade No. 1 in D major, Op. 11 represents the latter. Works into the hands of a teacher of two contemporary Americans, Princess Amalie, sister to Fred Aaron Copland and Samuel Barber, also are included.

The six Brandenburg concertos received their name because they were written for Christian Ludwig, the Margrave of Brandenburg, a good friend of Bach's employer in the Anhalt-Cöthen period. The Margrave loved good music and collected a rare library of works by musicians of his day. Although greatly impressed with Bach's ability, the Margrave did not value his concertos enough to include the name of Bach in his catalogue of manuscripts.

The manuscripts of the Brandenburg concertos ultimately fell into the hands of a teacher of two contemporary Americans, Princess Amalie, sister to Fred

Mitchell Suggests Buying Homes for Later Parking Use

Residences Could be Occupied by Welfare Recipients, Mayor Says

A county-wide health department, more parking facilities, improved traffic flow and orderly annexation were urged by Mayor Clarence Mitchell Tuesday night in his state of the city address.

He also asked Fox Cities area and regional cooperation.

Mitchell

The mayor said he though the city should seek the right to order limited access roads, as the highway commission does. He said this will be particularly important when the new U. S. 41 is completed.

The city is making a great deal of headway in providing more parking spaces, he said, "but we come part of the county and city must never let up in our efforts for more."

We should plan now to acquire land in the Wisconsin Avenue area for parking," he proposed buying residences, and using them as homes for welfare department clients until needed for parking.

OSC Students Stage Their Own Parade

Demonstrate Against Communism, Cuban Dictator Castro

OSHKOSH (AP) — Some 39 Oshkosh State College students who said they were inspired by pro-Communist, pro-Castro demonstration elsewhere staged a downtown demonstration Tuesday against Communism and the Cuban dictator.

"We feel that organization and demonstration are as much weapons of freedom and democracy as they are of Communism and tyranny," said Robert Detjen of Kiel, Wis., one of the student leaders.

"For that reason we decided to show that we are opposed to the suppression of democratic freedoms."

The students, carrying signs and placards bearing such slogans as "Anti-Castro and Pro-Cuba", paraded up and down Oshkosh's main street, then returned to classes.

Group Limited

Detjen said the idea for the demonstration developed Monday night when several students heard of anti-American demonstrations.

"We could have gotten many more out if we had noised about the college," he said.

Plans were hurriedly made Monday night and Tuesday morning. The demonstration was conducted from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesday.

The group was limited so that the demonstration would not get out of control, he said.

Tight Restrictions on Big Rifles
Backed at Calumet County Hearing

CHILTON — Calumet County ening the entire state to motor sportsmen at a public hearing on trolling but favored the present proposed game law changes in the regulation which opens special courthouse voted down a floor waters to motor trolling, including proposal which would have closed Lake Winnebago.

Instead, the sportsmen will ask rough fish spearing by skin divers, the State Conservation Commission but solid behind opening all fishing seasons on a Saturday nearest the portion of the county lying west of State 57 to deer hunting, all state waters to pan fish and the regular opening date.

The group was unanimous in its opposition to a commission recommendation to move the opening day of trout season back to May 15 and extend it later in September.

Opponents to any form of splitting the county for deer hunting maintain that a division will result in confusion, serve no practical purpose and create enforcement difficulties.

Favor Spike Season

Asked its opinion on the statewide 1961 deer season, the group unanimously favored a 9-day spike buck season.

The Conservation Department received solid support in its fight to keep tight restrictions on big game rifles. The present regulation provides that it is unlawful to possess rifles chambered for cartridges larger than .22 caliber or shotgun shells loaded with shot larger than BB from April 1 to Jan. 1 in deer areas, unless the owner has secured a special permit.

Hunters voted 32 to 1 in opposition to repeal of the regulation and urged correspondence with legislature representatives asking their support of the commission's stand.

Fishermen opposed raising the legal number of ice fishing lines to three on a year-around basis, but favored continuation of the experimental regulation which permitted three lines through the ice on Winnebago.

They also went on record to support a revised possession limit regulation. The law in the past permitted the angler to possess double the daily bag limit at any location. public opinion forced closing of the track.

Mayor Carl W. Hofmeister said at present the city could make no such promise adding, however, that to date there has been no formal petition aimed at blocking the racing program filed with the city.

Hofmeister said even if a petition were filed, he was not certain of the council's power to close the track.

Rumors that Chestnut and S. Madison Street homeowners were circulating a petition motivated the appearance of the two organizations before the council. Several aldermen said they were aware of opposition to the noise and dust factors of racing at the fairgrounds.

Other Troubles

The track, currently under construction, will be located in front of the main grandstand on the south end of fairground property, within the city limits.

Beer sales licensing was also discussed, with further complications for the racing promoters. The Fair Association hoped to have a beer license issued in its name and lease the concession to an individual. This, however, is not in keeping with license regulations.

The council has traditionally been reluctant to license summer beer sales at the fairgrounds after a history of complaints of drinking minors during band contests.

For their request for city water to wet down the track, the two associations were referred to the Utility Commission.

Assembly Gives Preliminary OK to Exemption Bill

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Village of Little Chute won the first round in its prospective school organization troubles when the Wisconsin Assembly gave preliminary approval of a bill by Assemblyman Marvin Babbitt of Seymour to exempt the community from the provisions of the high school districting law.

Assemblymen will have a final vote later on the measure that would make an exception on behalf of the village in the law which requires all unorganized territory to become a part of an operating high school district by July 1 of 1962.

Community spokesmen had told the legislators at a hearing that the present law, if it forced an attachment to a neighboring district, would prevent the future organization of a public high school in the village. Most of the high school age students now attend a village parochial school.

The assembly vote on engrossment of the Babbitt bill was without a roll call, and without discussion.

Board Awards Fire Station, Roof Contracts

Approve Bonds For New Sewers, School Addition

A $550,000 corporate proposed bond issue was approved by Appleton's Board of Public Works Tuesday, and probably will get council approval tonight.

The bond issue is needed to finance the addition to Foster School, $24,000, and this year's storm and sanitary sewer construction, $310,000.

Board members learned that the sewer bond account has $41,664 in it, of which $76,000 is committed for sewers and a lift station in the industrial park. Another $221,000 will be needed to complete sewer work in the industrial park, the engineering department says.

The fire station will cost $78,200, just slightly under the estimated $80,000. The grandstand roof will cost $14,950, or $1,950 more than has been budgeted for it. A transfer from the general fund will be necessary to make up the difference, the board said.

The general construction contract for the fire station went to R. Smith Construction Co., Inc., Appleton, on its low bid of $34,955. There were 13 bidders for the job. The highest bid was $67,500.

Uptown Electric, Appleton, was the successful bidder for the electrical contract, with its low bid of $6,456. Highest of the seven bids was $10,450.

J. R. Wenzel Plumbing and Heating Co., Appleton, got both the heating and plumbing contracts, on low bids of $4,870 and $10,990 respectively.

Budget Appropriation

There is $40,000 in this year's budget for the fire station. The Finance Committee is being asked to recommend how to finance the remainder of the cost.

Board members discussed two possible ways to finance — borrowing from the off-street parking fund, which has a balance of $14,000, or taking a bank loan.

Several members favored borrowing from the parking fund but were opposed by others who considered that this might hinder the Conservation Commission to determine the number of permits issued.

Alsop Finds Corner Of World With Hope

Col. Thao Fights Political War to Win Back Vietnam Villages From Communist Control

BY JOSEPH ALSOP
BEN TRE, Kien Hoa Province, Dinh Niu, Col. Thao began his Vietnam — Nowadays, when a work in Kien Hoa by an action western reporter finds a corner of the world which positive symbolizing his break with the old French way of fighting the communists, which has been too often imitated by the South Vietnamese in the past two years. The provincial jail was bulging with a thousand prisoners, most of them held in mere suspicion. He sifted out about 300 hard core cases, and let the rest go free. He also burned the instruments of torture used by the police in a public ceremony in Ben Tre's main square.

Alsop
That is the real reason, I suppose, why he has lingered in this amiable little delta town, as the guest of the young province-chief of Kien Hoa, Lt. Col. Pham Ngoc Thao.

The cops - and - robbers, good guys - versus - communists aspect of this visit to Col. Thao has been pretty exciting — and decidedly pleasing, too, since the good guys have been coming out on top for once. But I confess I have been far more excited by the glimpse of a new kind of political warfare which I have caught through Col. Thao's eyes, in long talks with him in this high, bare old house of a French provincial administrator, in the calm intervals between patrols.

To make Col. Thao's war understandable, you have to understand him a little. He is, then, a slender, wiry, pleasant-spoken, gentle-seeming man, who has in fact been hardened by nearly 15 years of war, first with the communists against the French, and then with President Ngo Dinh Diem against the communists.

Communist Relations
He still has relations in the north. His father-in-law, in fact, is an important communist official who was my polite captor when I blundered into a communist-held area in South Vietnam six years ago. Because of his own past and his present connections, there was some grumbling when President Diem personally named Col. Thao to his job here after four previous province chiefs had failed to halt the rapid advance towards total takeover in Kien Hoa. At that time, this little town was almost literally besieged; all the main provincial roads were perennially impassable and the communists ruled virtually the entire countryside.

Kien Hoa is certainly no peaceful paradise today. The communists have a section of 30 to 50 regular troops in each of Kien Hoa's eight administrative districts, and they have two full companies, both well armed and well trained, based in heavily forested areas. Col. Thao still needs to be a very tough, resourceful anti-guerrilla leader, which he is. The war is unceasing, but at least Col. Thao has gained much ground since President Diem sent him here.

By the personal orders of the

To Your Good HealthDrugs, Transfusions Can Help Regulate Body's Fluid Balance

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What does fluid balance mean? My doctor is giving me pills for it. — J.D."

Fluid balance means the regulation of water in the body. Collectively, the amount needed for urinary purposes, for the blood; for the moistening of the mucous surfaces, for the various glands, for the tissues themselves.

"Don't Quit Because Of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Crescent, enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin.

on this basis. Thao and the junior officers who are his district chiefs have been repeating the Phu Nhuan experiment over and over again. It has not been smooth sailing by any means. The people, said the colonel, "must be convinced, and at that, it is often easier to convince our own cadres, who wish to win with guns."

Political Action Paid

Yet nine villages out of the province's 115 have been recaptured by political action in the last two months. They have been strategically chosen, too. For instance, the rich river mouth villages were among the first on the list. "They cost the communists a couple of million piastres a year in taxes on the fisheries, and we gained back as much," said the colonel.

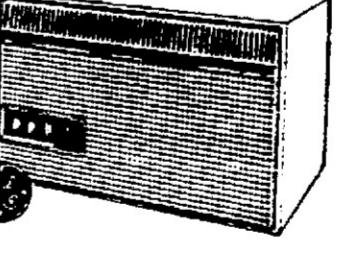

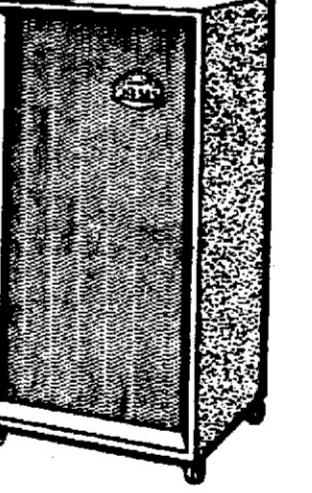

The economic war is just as important as the political war." A kind of encircling advance against the two communist forest-hidden bases is in fact going on in Kien Hoa. Many villages not specifically worked on show the effects of the political war. Meanwhile, a school to train new village elders, chosen from the best of the school teachers, is in its second month of work. A new administrative headquarters, designed to be squeeze-proof because all the offices are completely open to the public view, is going up in Ben Tre town. The roads are all repaired. The bridges are mended. A kind of quasi-normal life has returned to Kien Hoa. "In a year," says Col. Thao, "I think we can win this war here."

Saying farewell to him, it was natural to wish him luck.

Sun Melting Last Vestiges Of Snow Storm

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin began catching up with the calendar today as climbing temperatures and sunny skies eliminated the last vestiges of the weekend snowstorm.

About three inches of snow still were on the ground in Superior early this morning but that was expected to melt during the day.

The mercury hit 61 degrees at Lone Rock Tuesday. Wausau had 58, Madison and Beloit 57. Green Bay 56, Park Falls 56, Milwaukee 55 and Superior 47.

At night, temperatures held to midpoints in most areas, although Madison, Lone Rock and Eau Claire recorded a low of 28. La Crosse had 30, Superior 31, Wausau 32, Park Falls 32 and Milwaukee and Beloit 33.

The outlook called for continued mild weather through Thursday, but more showers apparently were on the way.

Weather in the state from now to mid-May will have temperatures and rains near or slightly above normal, the weekly weather and crop reporting service said today.

Field work is at a standstill because of wet conditions, the report says. Farmers are continuing with no field work and logging operations in the north are at a virtual standstill.

Bob Purkey Stops Giants, Boosts Redlegs into Lead

Dodgers Win, 5-4, Over Cards

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Purkey apparently wasn't listening when Fred Hutchinson, the Cincinnati manager, declared at the season's start that the team's fate this year was in the hands of the young pitchers.

The veteran right-hander, who will be 31 in July, pitched his second straight victory Tuesday night, a 5-1 triumph over San Francisco, and boosted the Reds into first place in the National League.

It was Cincinnati's fourth success in six starts and Purkey's second complete game. The rest of the staff, which includes Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook, Jim Maloney and Joey Jay, all in their early 20s, have only one complete game among them.

The Reds own a half-game lead over the St. Louis Cards, Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates, all tied for second. Los Angeles dropped St. Louis out of a first-place tie with a 5-4 night victory over the Cards and Pittsburgh moved up by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-3 in the only game played in daylight. Rain washed out the Milwaukee-Philadelphia game with the Braves leading 3-1 at the end of an inning and a half.

Only Six Hits

Purkey, Cincinnati's leading pitcher last season with a 17-11 record, permitted the Giants only six hits and lost his bid for a shutout when Willie Mays led off the last of the seventh with his second home run of the season. That was the knuckleballer's only troublesome inning. The Giants loaded the bases but Purkey retired pinch hitter Jim Marshall to end the threat.

Wally Post, Gene Freese and Gordon Coleman led a 10-hit at-

Twins Will Get One of Biggest Welcomes in Minnesota History

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)

The front-running Minnesota Twins arrive home tonight to one of the biggest welcomes ever accorded a state athletic team.

Even the weatherman is proving cooperative, as thousands of Minnesotans prepare for the opening of major league baseball in the Gopher state. The Twins meet the new Washington Senators at Metropolitan Stadium Friday.

Everywhere talk is centered on the Twins and their amazing break from the American League starting gate.

Minnesota's 3-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday brought the Twins' league-leading record to 5-1, four of the victories over the two pre-season pennant picks — New York and Baltimore.

No elaborate ceremonies are planned at the airport, but fireworks will start Thursday.

Open Salute

St. Paul opens the ceremonies with a breakfast and musical salute from the police band at a downtown hotel.

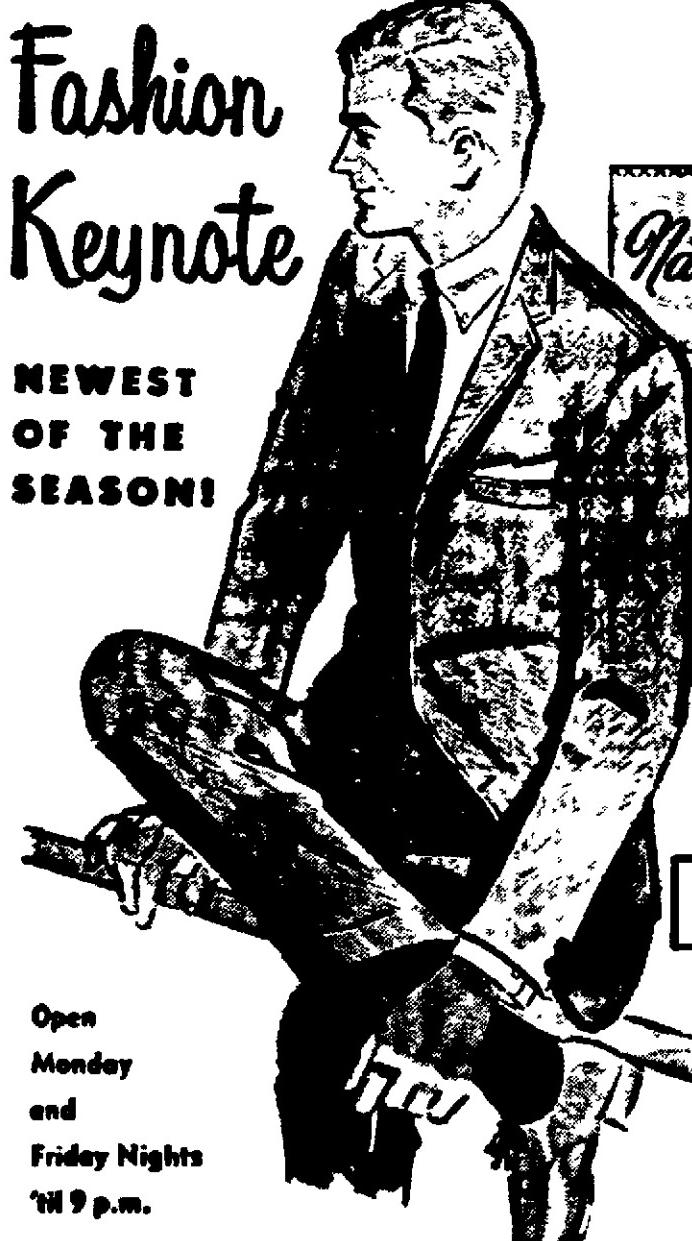

The players again will be introduced and interviewed.

Before the day is over, most Twin Cities fans and many out-of-state faithful will have had their first real look at the heroes.

Rockets Divide With Algoma '9'

Mory Handler Hurls 5-Inning 2-Hitter for 2-0 Decision

NEENAH — The veteran Mory Handler was the hurling star for tune-up games for the opening of the Mid-Eastern Conference season on Saturday when Kimberly will be the visitor.

Algoma took the other part of the twin-bill, 1-0, with Bill Fahrenkrug getting charged with the loss.

The Rockets got only three hits off Tim Zettel, Algoma lefthander, but all came in the fourth inning and accounted for the two Neenah losses.

DETROIT (AP)—Ned Day of Milwaukee may miss out on this year's American Bowling Congress tourney in the city where he captured the all-events diamond medal back in 1948.

Day, stylist who has a 200 average for his 28 years of ABC bowling, is suffering single to center.

Tuesday night with the Strike 'N' Spare team of Chicago. However, he couldn't make it.

Strike 'N' Spare managed only a weak 2,710 series in its Classic Division debut. Another Classic team was off to an even poorer start as the powerful Hamm's of Minneapolis opened with 2,664.

The Vulcan Water Proofing Club of Detroit rolled 2,985 in regular team play, good for eighth place.

The ABC announced there would be official co-champions in event of any ties. Stu's Drive in of Urbana, Ohio, and Pepsi Cola of Milwaukee are deadlocked for first place in the regular team division with 3,027 totals.

Tieing teams or individuals will receive identical championship medals and will divide the first and second place prize money.

Yesterday's Stars

Lennie Green, Twins, had four hits in four times at bat, scored the first run and sacrificed the second run into scoring position as the Twins nipped the Red Sox 3-2.

Ken Kavanaugh and Fred Steger are the other lettermen.

MENASIA — Bill Prange will carry the chief mound hopes for the Bluejays. He will be aided by three other lettermen, John Matowitz, Roger Schmidt, and Bill Neubauer.

Prange is also the apparent leader of the attack as his .500 batting average in the two pre-season games would indicate. Other help, in addition to that of the lettermen, is expected to come from outfielder Ken Stumpf, infielder Wally Olson, and catcher Dave Schanck.

SHAWANO — Frank Wegner, a righthander with a 1-1 record a year ago is the top man on the mound staff. The Indians will open with a veteran at seven positions. Steve Heller will be behind the plate, Rog Prickette, Don Mayer, and Ken Seering in the infield, and Lee Otto and Merle Grosskopf in the outfield.

Non-lettermen in the Indians' lineup are Gordy Sauer, at second base, and Wayne Robley, in the outfield.

KIMBERLY — The Papermakers have six lettermen. Jeff Vander Velden is the top moundsman and catcher Dave Minten the hitting leader.

Vander Velden fanned 17 batters in the opening exhibition game against Freedom last week.

NEENAH — The team had 33 candidates, including 10 mono-graph winners at the start of practice. The Rockets have four hurlers of some experience, Mory Handler, Bill Fahrenkrug, George Steffensen, and Tommy Hensen.

George Goetz returns to his shortstop job for the third year and Jim Sauby is back at first base.

NEW LONDON — The Bulldogs have two veteran moundsmen.

Mike Herres and Jim Winckler are both returning lettermen. Herres was the winner in an exhibition against Weyauwega and Winckler lost a 1-0 decision to Hortonville in the team's other pre-season test.

TWO RIVERS — The Two Rivers team will have Fred Koester back on the mound, with his battery mate, Gary Meyer, being another of the Raiders' strong points.

Catcher Johnny Roseboro, of Los Angeles, sends St. Louis shortstop Daryl Spencer cartwheeling as they collide at the plate at Los Angeles Tuesday night while Spencer was trying to score from third on an infield grounder. Braves, Phillies Wait for Each Other to Make First Trading Move PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Phils and reportedly is tending Milwaukee Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies are playing a cat-and-mouse game. Each has players the other wants. And each is waiting for the other to make the big move.

It's no secret the Braves are coveting relief specialist Jack Farrell. And the Phils want Milwaukee shortstop Johnny Logan — plus others.

General Manager John McHale accompanied the Braves to Philadelphia, but apparently his trade talks centered mostly with baseball writers. So, naturally, John Quinn, the Phils' GM, countered along the same lines.

SEARCHING LOOK

"We don't know what to talk about until we give our club a long, searching look," McHale said. "They said he (Farrell) isn't available and that's all we've got to go by. They talk about Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron, so that's about as unavailable as you can get."

Quinn, who quit as Braves' general manager to go with Philadelphia, said that Farrell is available "starting with Johnny Logan as part of a package deal."

"That would be the start of the package," Quinn emphasized. "It would take more than one player to get a pitcher like Farrell."

So how about Jim Owens, the AWOL right-hander who quit the

Brockman, Schmelzel Both Fire 1-Hitters in Little Nine Openers

Freedom, Denmark, Hortonville Post Easy Victories

A pair of 1-hitter shutouts Tuesday marked opening action in the Little Nine Conference baseball race.

Freedom's Jim Brockman blanked Wrightstown, 8-0, in the circuit's Eastern Division. And, defending Western Division champion Hortonville downed Winneconne, 10-0, behind Franz Schmelzel's 1-hitter.

In other action, defending Eastern Division Champion Denmark downed Reedsville, 9-3. The Bear Creek-at-Omro 'Western' contest was postponed to Thursday because of wet grounds.

The only hit off Schmelzel was a line shot to right center field in the fourth inning by Martin Day. No base-runners moved past second as Schmelzel struck out 12 and walked one.

Second Shutout

It was the second low-hit shutout of the season for the 5-10, 170-pound senior right-hander. Hortonville is 3-0 over-all, and the win's are Schmelzel's.

The Polar Bears exploded for five runs in the first on two errors, a hit batsman, a walk, and Schmelzel's 2-run single and a 2-run double by Bill Collar. Dick Junker of Hortonville rapped a bases-full double in the third and also singled.

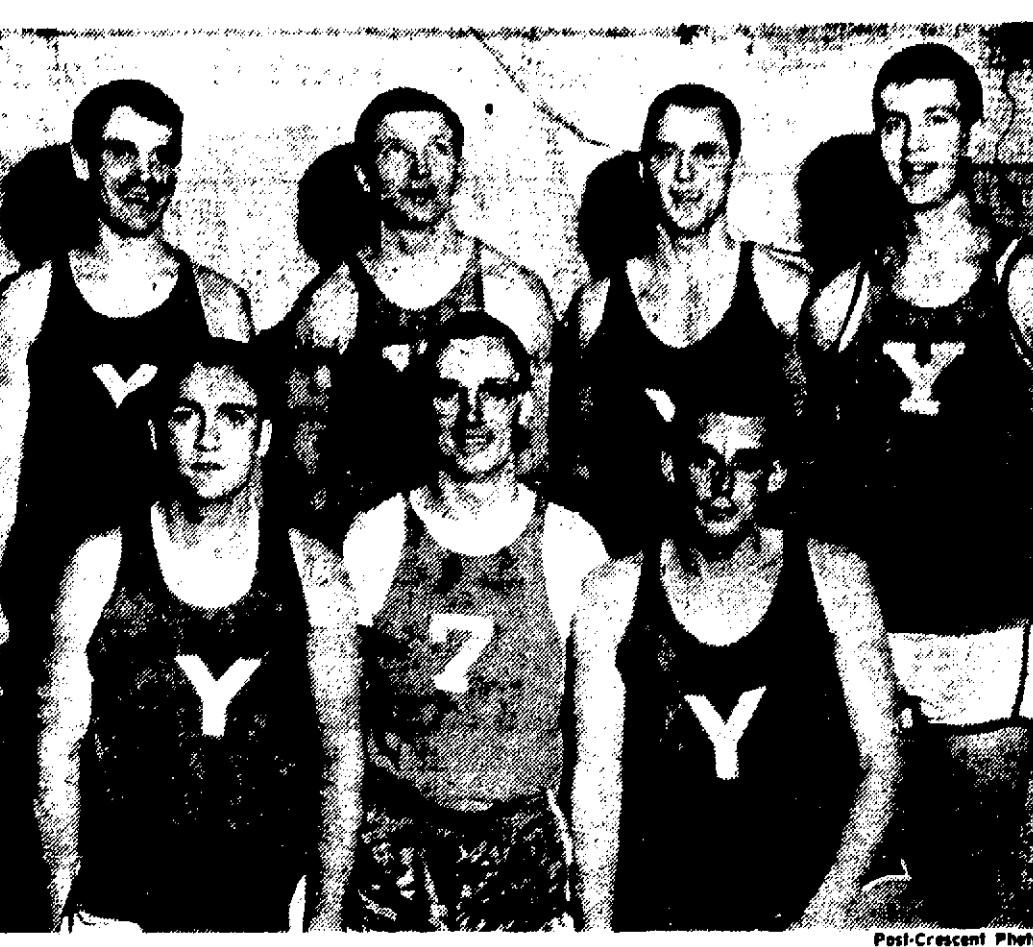

The losing pitcher, Jay Boss, yielded nine hits over the route, striking out five and walking six.

Gerald Pieschek, of Denmark, stopped Reedsville on three hits. He struck out 12 and walked one.

The loser was Joe Welch, Reedsville's starter, who went the first and 2-3 innings. Dick Diener finished Denmark went ahead in a 3-run first in which the only hit was a Pieschek single. There were three errors.

Top Brass

Mixed in with the team will be the top brass of the American and major leagues—American League president Joe Cronin, former senior loop boss Will Harridge and commissioner Ford Frick. Also present in the party will be Gov. Elmer L. Andersen, manager Cookie Lavagetto, Twins President Cal Griffith and mayors George Vavoulis of St. Paul and P. Kenneth Peterson of Minneapolis.

The snow club officials feared might put a damper on the opener turned out to be a blessing in disguise. Stadium manager Joe Duffy said the added moisture left the field in perfect condition.

Only aftereffects of the three-inch snowfall concern the stadium's parking lots. Only two of the nine lots are paved, leaving the remaining seven slightly muddy.

Possible Sellout

The game shapes up as a possible sellout. Ticket manager of the head of Pittsburgh second baseman Bill Mazeroski last Sunday about 3,000 of 30,627 tickets.

Williams also says next Sunday's winner of the $7,000 in top money probably will be Gary Player or Arnold Palmer, stars of the recent Masters tournament.

say at his news conference April 12 was that the forces of the United States would not be employed in any armed

"intervention."

The key word is

"intervention." This, in diplomacy, means a direct interference or interjection of military strength in a dispute between factions inside a country where there is no constituted government.

What Mr. Kennedy said, on the other hand, does not rule out at all a possible landing of United States forces at any time in Cuba or in any other country in the world whenever the lives and properties of American citizens may require protection.

Or New Government

Nor does the Kennedy statement foreclose the possibility that, if a new government arises

in Cuba and formally requests military aid from the United States to help protect American lives, this form of help, recognized also in international law, would be forthcoming.

It is important for the record and to avoid misunderstandings in Latin America, in the event of later crises in Cuba, to point out exactly what the president said at his news conference. It is essential that the question to which he was replying also be noted. The exchange was as follows.

"Q. Mr. President, has a decision been reached on how far this country would be willing to go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion of Cuba? What could you say with respect to recent developments as far as the anti-Castro movements in Cuba are concerned?

American Citizens

"A. Well, first I want to say that there will not be under any conditions an intervention in Cuba

by United States armed forces.

This government will do everything it possibly can, and I think it can meet its responsibilities, to make sure that there are no

Americans involved in any actions inside Cuba."

The context of the answer is related solely to "intervention"—

the giving of help to one side as against another in an internal revolution. Mr. Kennedy was speaking strictly in conformity with international law and historical precedent. Though the United States has extended recognition—sometimes too soon—it has never conceded that it used its military forces as a matter of "intervention" in the internal affairs of a sovereign state.

Even in 1903 when a faction inside Colombia seceded and established an independent government and called it the Republic of Panama—including the area of the canal—President Theodore Roosevelt within a few days recognized the new government as independent and gave it armed help. But there was official inistence afterward that the United States had not "intervened."

Colombia never forgot the episode and provided for the payment to Colombia of a $25 million indemnity by the United States as a means of calming the bitterness of feeling against this country that had arisen in Latin America as a result of the recognition of Panama.

No Economic Sanction

Incidentally, President Kennedy

in his news conference announced: "we do not intend to take any action with respect to the property or other economic interests which American citizens formerly held in Cuba, other than formal and normal negotiations with a free and independent Cuba.

"The basic issue in Cuba is not one between the United States and Cuba. It is between the Cubans themselves."

Five days later—on Monday of this week—Secretary of State Rusk at a press conference carefully underlined in a written statement

President Kennedy's concept of avoiding "intervention" in the internal affairs of Cuba. He was asked and answered this question:

"Q. Does your categorical statement that we are not going to intervene in Cuba, period, mean that this administration is abandoning the traditional reservation that we reserve the right to intervene to protect American lives.

"A. That particular question is one for the future, and I would not wish to relate it particularly to Cuba because of the debate

now going on in the United Nations at this very moment."

Internal Matter

So it is clear that the present disturbance is regarded here as internal and there will be no armed "intervention" by United States forces.

One, however, a new govern-

Acting Stopped Pulled Out for NBC Feature

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—"Cry Vengeance," Tuesday night's NBC drama special, gave the performers a chance to pull out all the acting stops. But it was a self-conscious, static and talky playlet.

It was an account of the last days of a Sicilian Robin Hood, who has come to believe his murders are "executions" and that his idea of justice is above law and religion.

The central figure of the drama is the bandit's friend and follower. The story is that of the boy's disillusionment, his gradual realization that the man he admires is evil.

But all this was confused by many flashbacks, symbolic nightmares and lots of shouting and heavy breathing. With Ben Gazzara giving his all as the bandit and Sal Mineo, playing his friend, Appleton police found him staggering in the halls of the Conway Hotel Monday and arrested him. Vaughn was registered at the hotel.

One overnight rating service estimates that there were about 56 million viewers watching the first half-hour of Monday night's Oscar awards ceremonies — a record for rescuers — who never higher number than watched last year.

Something always goes wrong at some point on Hollywood's big night. This year, there were a ghastly few minutes immediately after the ceremonies when actor Wendell Corey and a pretty blonde girl — unknown to this viewer — were waiting in the "press room" to interview the winners. The winners never did show up, and the would-be interviewers stammered, and tried to make conversation while looking desperately beyond the cameras to see what was happening.

ABC's news department, had a carefully prepared documentary on Cuba ready for showing Tuesday night — another "Close-Up."

But it was caught short by the chief author of the new proposal, which exploded in revolution which immediately made their program decisions that have modified the constitutionality of the staff previous tests of constitutionality update the material.

Sensitive Issue Returns to State Private, Parochial School Aid For Transportation Bill Offered

BY JOHN WYNGARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — One of the most sensitive and controversial issues in Wisconsin and American politics unexpectedly returned to the Wisconsin legislative arena Tuesday when a group of Wisconsin assemblymen offered legislation to legalize the use of public funds for the transportation of private and parochial children to their classes.

Bitter Argument

The parochial school bus issue has been the source of bitter argument in the legislature over the decades, and in 1945 was the cause of one of the most explosive referendums to be held in Wisconsin in modern times. The referendum vote was on an amendment to the constitution to permit the legislature to authorize transportation of parochial school students. The proposal lost by a ratio of five to four, after an intense campaign by supporters and opponents.

The exception

out on previous occasions the authors assumed that a constitutional amendment would be required to enact the law that opponents have consistently maintained would both sides.

Unemployment
Major Problem
In Canada

11.3 Per Cent of Country's Workers
Now Out of Jobs

OTTAWA (AP) — Unemployment has hit every region in Canada, and 719,000 workers—11.3 per cent of the country's labor force—are out of work.

Every province has been affected differently, adding to the difficulties of national officials tackling the problem.

Seasonal layoffs in the fishing and logging industries have rocked Newfoundland's jobless to a staggering 26.4 per cent—yet the island's biggest retail store reports sales slightly up.

British Columbia is having difficulties like the rest of the country but the aluminum town of Kitimat on the northwest coast has more jobs than men to fill them. The union is arranging a charter flight abroad for 135 employees while one plant is shut down for repairs.

In the lush fruit-growing Okanagan Valley, Manager A. G. Thomas of the local employment service office says the reason more people got jobless insurance benefits this winter was that there was a good fruit season last year.

Unique Situation

"A good summer means a bad winter," he says. "A unique situation." The good 1960 season, he explained, allowed more persons to qualify for benefits.

In populous Quebec Province, with about 260,000 idle out of working force of 1,798,000, small grocery stores are experiencing difficulties and many are giving credit only to their oldest customers.

Two big grocery chains have announced plans to build discount stores to attract bargain-conscious food shoppers. But in Montreal big department and supermarket stores report business is holding up.

In sprawling Ontario, where the latest figure showed 202,000 workers idle out of around 2.1 million, a half-dozen cities are in trouble. The automobile-making centers of Windsor and Oshawa have had layoffs, and Cornwall's textile industry has run into difficulties, partly from Japanese competition.

The bottom fell out of the uranium market and hundreds at Elliot Lake are looking for jobs. The provincial government is planning to build a reform institution to provide jobs but many home-owners have packed up and left town.

Sales Hold Up

But in Toronto, the nation's second largest city and capital of Ontario, department store sales are holding up. One executive reported business was about the same as last year.

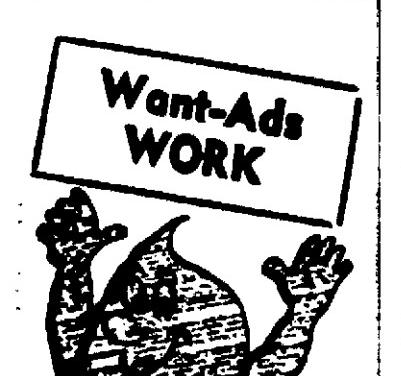

A similar contrast is noted in Nova Scotia. Sydney is hard hit, with merchants reporting business about 10 per cent below the average for this time of year. Halifax, with waterfront activity steady and construction high, lists about 800 more employed than at the same time in 1960.

Seasonal layoffs are always a big problem in Canada. There are widespread predictions that the job outlook will get better in many regions after the severe winter.

New Brunswick's Premier Louis Robichaud summed up the general situation when he told his legislature that unemployment continues a major problem, "but like our sister provinces, we are unable to substantially change economic conditions that are national in character."

Floating Island

Nourishing and delicious are Floating Islands made by combining four eggs with two-thirds cup sugar. Gradually stir in two and one-half cups scalded milk. Cook, stirring constantly over medium heat, until mixture coats spoon. Cool slightly and stir in one-fourth teaspoon salt and one teaspoon vanilla. Chill in dessert glasses. Top four to six servings.

Many newer houses are going vacant because people can't afford the rents. An increasingly common practice is for the family of an unemployed worker to move in with a more fortunate cousin who still has a job.
